AKA: Mr. A., Monkey.
5 Months Old
Shelter #102430
Quirky, Sweet & Shy

Hi! My name is Angus! My foster mom and dad say I am very very sweet and I couldn't agree more. BUT, I am also very shy and a little bit skittish, and I thought it would be smart to warn you in advance, so that when you take me home, you're not surprised when I spend the first little while hiding under your bed! It's going to take me a little while to get used to you, a new place, and any other new people that might live there too. But don't worry! Once I warm up to you, we are going to be BEST FRIENDS. I just know it!

It's pretty easy to make friends with me. You just need a little patience, you have to let me come to you, instead of coming to get me and making me do something crazy like sit near you on your couch, or worse (!), make me sit in your lap. I'll do that when I'm good and ready! Sudden moves and loud noises aren't going to help, so just keep that in mind and we'll all be ok. Also, treats help. Just in case you might have some treats handy. I love treats. A lot. And toys too.

Once we are fast friends, I'll be in your lap, purring like crazy, or calling out for you if you disappear. I'm interesting in all the things you're doing, and especially like to help you read books. I'm very good at lying on them to keep them warm, while you ponder some interesting theories, or reflect on that last chapter. I'm also very interested in looking out windows to see what's happening outside.

I'll save up my energy all day by napping a lot, so that when you come through the door, I'm all ready to hear about your day. I'm a little bit talkative, so I'll tell you all about my day, too, and then we can have some dinner! I'm always happy to see the people I love, so don't be surprised to find me rubbing your ankles and purring like crazy because I'm just so happy to see you!

Even at my most skittish and shy, nothing stopped me from going after my toys (this is how my foster parents distracted me from being such a scaredy cat all the time). I love toys! If it crinkles, jingles or shakes, I want it! If it has a long string, I'll take it away with me! I love to play, and love it even more if you have some time to play games with me. I like to make up my own pretend games too, and throw my toys around and then run to catch them.

My dream family will have lots of time to play and snuggle, and if I'm lucky, my best friend and brother Reggie, too (his shelter number is 102431). I just can't live in a house with kids or dogs – I'd prefer some place nice and quiet, with just one or two adults to be my friends! I would also like my new house to have some shiny toys, and some tasty food, please.

The cat food I've been eating is all natural food from Merrick's - I especially like anything they make that has seafood in it like "Ocean Breeze" or "Surf & Turf", and I don't really like boring turkey or chicken food that much but I'll eat it if I have to. Dry food is great and I really love to snack on it all day long – the wet food is just a treat.

My foster mom and dad really really loved me a lot, and I would not be the same kitten I am today without their help (and endless amount of coaxing to stop hiding in the corner and come out to play already). If you're up to it, maybe you could let them know I'm ok and that I have an awesome new family so they don't need to worry? You can email my foster mom at robyn@lilybug.ca and she can probably send you pictures of when I was a tiny baby kitten, too!

If you read all the way through this great profile of me, you might already love me a little bit. Maybe we can go home now?
